The Unknowns

(For all those (wo)men you once loved)

Słowa: Marta Jundziłł

*I will never show how much I would care,
'Cause even the most is not enough for you.
I will never know how long you will stay,
'Cause every "forever" always has its end.*

*I will never know if you love — or why,
Cause I can't simply guess what's inside your mind.
I will never ask the questions I fear,
Like why you vanish so quickly each time I draw near.*

*I will always try to grasp what love is,
But it slips through my hands like the morning mist.
I will always fall for the sound of your voice,
Even knowing that silence might also be the choice.*
